BOOK TO PARTS AND PAGES.

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) March 28.—Chief Crazy Snake and his band of followers retreated before five companies of Oklahoma militia late tonight, thus deferring an expected battle until tomorrow.

Hastily setting fire to his tepees and tents, the Indian leader, with his mixed company of redskins and negroes, fled from his blazing camp as the troops advanced. The renegades took up a strong position between the North Canadian River and Deep Fork Creek, about seventeen miles east of Henryetta.

Col. Hoffman, in command of the state troops, considered it unwise to attack the Indians in the darkness of the night, so he bivouacked his troops for the night.

Early in the morning, reinforced by a company of cowboys from around Lawton, all crack shots, he will lead his forces against the Indians.

Crazy Snake and his braves will be ordered to give battle tomorrow. If they refuse, the battle will be on.

That the old chief is striving to stir the Creeks to an uprising and strike for what he conceives to be liberty, was evident from the smoke of three signal fires on adjacent hills just before sundown.

A man who loves Miss Wong She, young Chinese woman, joins ancient ones in the ranks of the Indians, and who outfit ring to win her.

Amount making parahante descent on hill is unknown. Some have been killed and many wounded since the trouble began.

ASSERTS MARY GARDEN ERRED.

Mrs. David Mayer Gives Her Side of Story.

Declares Singer Did Not Have Baby in Paris.

Charges the Diva With Base Ingratitude.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
CHICAGO, March 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mary Garden is in error, according to David Mayer, husband of Mrs. David Mayer, in charging the Chicago woman with circulating an accusation that the singer during her Parisian career, was both wife and mother.

Mrs. Mayer said she was induced to make her first formal reply to the accusations made by Garden by the knowledge that this particular gossip was accredited to her.

She explained the reports did reach her while Miss Garden was still her protégé, and that she investigated them, with the result that she was convinced they were groundless.

"I did not wish to make any public statement about the Garden affair," said Mrs. Mayer, "but so many calumnies and perverted stories have been circulated that I deemed it necessary and fair to do something, and under the belief that Mary Garden is amenable responsible for these wanton lies than I am."

"I first met Mary Garden fifteen years ago. Miss Robinson, Mrs. Duff's studio in Chicago, and was at once attracted and impressed with her charming personality and lovely voice. We became good friends, and two or three years later her parents were obliged to leave Chicago through Mr. Garden accepting a position with the Harvard, C. I. C. Miss Garden was the pupil of my home, which she attended for one year, and was then enabled to continue her musical studies with Mrs. Duff."

The critic became enthusiastic over her pupil's progress, and I so interested, that I concluded to give her the advantage of two years study in Paris. An additional $1,000 was paid through the pleading of Miss Garden. After that my responsibility and remittances ceased, as this was my father's last sum he had been allowed to. From that time a hostile feeling arose that would have seemed to have left no traces when I again saw Miss Garden.

"While it was clearly understood she was to return to me the money advanced for her musical education, I did not attempt to collect this money, and made no effort to intend until Miss Garden's sight at the Manhattan Operahouse last December. This sight, so unwarranted, was so inaccurate, that I resolved to consult my lawyer, who happened to be in New York at the time, and received in my room from Miss Garden $20,000. These are the bald facts."

Mrs. Mayer said she was positive that the story that Miss Garden became pregnant while in Paris is untrue. She declared she believed she was in possession of the facts and that she never heard of the story until she saw it in the newspaper.

Miss Garden never married any drummer or any student so far as Mrs. Mayer knew.

The assertion of Miss Garden that she had paid Mrs. Mayer such exorbitant interest on the loan made her, she said, declare that she had been defrauded.

Mayer declared that she had been defrauded.

PITTSBURGH, March 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was a somewhat exciting wedding yesterday at the home of Capt. W. E. Rodgers, the millionaire coal operator of Bellevue, when his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Dora White Browning Rodgers, aged 25, was married to William H. Donner, the well-known capitalist, about whose former marital troubles there was always a great mystery.

The home was fixed at 12, and the invited guests and the minister, Rev. Z. T. Sweeney of Columbus, Ind., were there when the bride was discovered to be had not married with the license. The license was soon procured, however, and the knot tied.

Mr. Donner in his application for a license, however, had been divorced from his former wife, Dorothy Palmer, at Cleveland, O. He was the respondent and the papers say the court found that he was guilty of gross neglect of his marital duties.

Donner came from Louisville, where he was poor. He became interested in the tin plate industry and soon was at the head of the American Tin Plate Company. He retired some years ago.

MONTGOMERY (Ala.) March 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] More than one thousand white people, of the best families of the city attended the funeral of Bob Goodwin, a one-armed negro, hero of his tribe, at the home of Mrs. C. A. Munn, the rich society daughter of Mrs. C. A. Munn of Scott Circle, Washington.

Bob was a sergeant in the Alabama River and had saved many lives. Recently he pulled E. W. Bliss, passenger agent of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, out of the water when he was presented with a gold medal by citizens.

Mr. Bliss paid every expense of the funeral.

Bob was drowned with three others in the river on March 10, his last effort being to aid those in the water. Strange to say, he was almost saved by a man in the boat having hold of his hand when a log struck and knocked him unconscious. Since then scores of white people searched the river but without success, until Saturday.

C HICAGO, March 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Summoned to the bedside of his dying mother, Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, arrived in Chicago this afternoon, after a record-breaking run on a special train, a special express to find that death had beaten him by exactly fifteen minutes.

I think that is all," he added quietly. "The run will live long in railroad history. The train, which started from local railroad men, its schedule was the fastest time ever made between the two cities. The trip from New York, a distance of 963 miles, took only fifteen hours and seven minutes.

Mr. Vanderlip's train was given the right of way. The run from New York to Buffalo, 360 miles, was covered in 10 hours. The run from Buffalo to Cleveland, 182 miles, was covered in 16 minutes. Leaving Cleveland at 9:20 a.m. and the special arrived at Toledo at 11:25 a.m. The run from Toledo to Elkhart, Ind., was reached at 1:25 p.m., making 123 miles in 120 minutes. Elkhart, Ind., was reached at 2:38 p.m. The last 95 miles being made in 92 minutes.

An automobile was waiting and the white-faced, prematurely gray man jumped into it, and was whirled to Mrs. Charlotte Vanderlip's residence at No. 5331 Madison avenue. Mrs. Hardin met him at the door.

"Mother," he asked.

ASSOCIATED PRESS, NIGHT REPORT.

LONDON, March 26.—London is the only capital where official confirmation of the settlement of the Balkan crisis is lacking.

The British foreign office tonight, according to reports, had not been informed that Austria had accepted Sir Edward Grey's formula for the declaration which Servia is to make to the administration at Vienna, but it was fully expected that Austria would accept, and no surprise was expressed at the news.

While Foreign Secretary Grey has enhanced his reputation by his successful efforts to maintain peace, it is realized that Austria and Germany have scored a great diplomatic victory over the members of the triple entente.

It is understood that in the declaration agreed upon Servia will announce that she has no rights with regard to Bosnia and Herzegovina; that she is ready to live on friendly terms with Austria, and will desist from her intervention in the Balkans.

In return, Austria is to make general economic concessions to Servia.

Among the party of nine has been Miss Munn, the rich society daughter of Mrs. C. A. Munn of Scott Circle, Washington.

acres of ground, mined by dredges, this waste of cobblestones.

The plan is the taking of the cobbles and converting them into road building material by crushing them. The ground is then leveled added, in which planting is done.

The intention is to organize subsidiary companies to carry on this

PORTLAND, March 26.—[Exclusive with the story that a girl had been killed and bound and foot

the House, a fifteen-year-old High School girl, tonight admitted that she tied herself to the fettters. Her purpose was to induce her parents to give her consent to her marriage to

Charles E. Taylor, a private in the regular army.

When the parents returned home late last night, they found the girl seized and bound, with a of clothing. So cleverly had the daughter done the work that until tonight the assault was thought gen-two men.

The episode is a sequel to a run-

Taylor was arrested, and is PHOENIX (Ariz.) March 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rare presence of mind exhibited in the face of great danger today saved Fireman Horahan of the United States Coast Artillery, at Fort Worden, from death and frightful mutilation. Horahan had been detailed to handle the donkey engine with the aid of which coal for the post was being hauled to a bluff above the quartermaster's dock. The heavy machinery was in motion drawing a carload up the tram when Horahan's attention was distracted for an instant, but long enough to have the sleeve of his blouse caught by the wire cable winding on the monster drum.

Twice the man was whirled around the drum, the reeling strands surely drawing him to destruction when by superhuman effort as he was going except by his kicked the steam valve with such violence that the machinery was stopped.

Fifteen hundred cases of eggs have gone over the Valdez-Cordova trail this winter, 600 more cases are en route. The eggs are taken on sleds.

The cases are wrapped with several thicknesses of paper and canvas and piled on sleds with large tarpaulins wrapped around. The sleds are in motion all the time, so soon as they stop lighted lanterns are placed inside the tarpaulins. This suffices to keep the temperature above freezing.

One Fairbanks egg speculator lost $1,400 on a load of eggs at Dry Creek Road House a few days ago. During the time the eggs were on the sleds the tarpaulin got nothing but snow.

SEATTLE, March 28.—[Exclusive

The advice and services so rendered were reasonable worth somewhere between $15 and $200.

The plaintiff asks judgment against the defendant for $100, plus costs, and pray that the archdeacon himself answer this prayer of the plaintiff.

He adds:

I was called to the telephone by a party who wanted to give me information, stating that he was the occupant of room 1103 of the Savoy Hotel.

He asked me for advice on certain questions, which I gave him. Later, learned that the room was occupied by Archdeacon Emery, the father of the girl who was married to a Japanese named Aoki.

Emery had left the city for California before the summons could be served.

Legislate for Combination Is Harriman's Advice.

The Progress of Civilization Means Coalition.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT]

RENO (Nev.) March 22.—When he stepped from his private car at the Southern Pacific Railroad yards at Reno this morning, E. H. Harriman, veteran newspaper man as old acquaintance.

Asked for an interview, Mr. Harriman responded: "What do you want me to talk about?"

"Railroad matters," was the answer. "What in particular?" asked Mr. Harriman.

"Well, the people of Nevada and the surrounding country are somewhat agitated at the present time about the traffic rates, and we would like to hear from you."

"Get straighted out in Nevada, and take the lead in what is bound to come."

Mr. Harriman appeared sprightly and gay, and spoke with a group of others to be photographed several times, and curiously watched Miss Goetz while she tripped lightly up and down the gravelled tracks and heard joyfully.

He stepped onto the scales and tipped the beam at 134 pounds.

Mr. Harriman was accompanied by Vice-President Calvin of the Southern Pacific, W. H. Sheridan, general manager of the San Antonio division, as well as his personal party.

He was met by W. H. Bancroft, vice-president and general manager of the Oregon Short Line; J. M. Davis, general superintendent of the Oregon Short Line; G. C. Morrison, superintendent of the Salt Lake division; Thomas Fitzgerald, resident engineer of the Salt Lake division, and E. W. Clapp, Southern Pacific freight and passenger agent for the state of Nevada.

All of those except Mr. Clapp accompanied him eastward.

MONEY IN TWO-CENT RATE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) March 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In view of the fact that the railroads of the State are threatening to raise the 2-cent passenger rate law passed by the preceding Assembly, the forthcoming report of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission is of additional interest in that it gives the basis of the defense which the State will make if the law is attacked.

It shows that the roads have been making more money with a 2-cent rate than they made with the old 3-cent rate. The revenue from the passenger tickets according to this report, was nearly $2,000,000 more in 1898, under the 2-cent law than in 1897, under the 3-cent rate.

The earnings called for the passenger service were over $2,000,000 greater, this including mails, express, charges for excess baggage and miscellaneous items not listed.

In nearly every other department of railroad service are shown, and this is explained by the commercial depression which hit the railroads as hard as it did any other industry.

The gross losses of the railroads in 1898 were $55,000,000.

There were able to reduce operating expenses by $22,000,000, and their loss in net income from operation was $33,000,000. Altogether, there was a $30,000,000 decrease in net income, and there was a decrease of over $5,000,000 in freight revenue.

The decreases are attributed to other causes than legislation, and it is the contention of the State that it is caused by the increase of the 2-cent fare law and the reduction in freight caused by the action of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission and not by the pressure of the railroads on the ports of the railroads to the railroad commission.

CARS FOR WOMEN.

SUBWAY WILL TRY PLAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although the idea of having separate subway cars for women doesn't seem to meet with the approval of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, a decisive test of the plan will be made on the Hudson tunnel system beginning next Wednesday morning. It is found to be impracticable to add to the accommodations for passengers or facilitating the movement of trains, it will be made a permanent feature of the line.

William C. McAdoo, president of the New York and Manhattan Railroad Company, in announcing his determination today, said that when the idea was suggested first it did not seem feasible, but after studying the problem he decided it was practicable.

The special cars for women will be run only in "rush" hours to begin.

They will be attached to all trains leaving Hoboken between 4:30 and 7 o'clock in the morning. The metro, at each station, will pay particular attention to the last cars and their women passengers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CITY OF MEXICO, March 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The National Railway of Mexico has issued a bulletin announcing that on April 1 the system of passenger train inspection will be adopted for the purpose of keeping check on the conductors in the matter of cash fares.

The conductors have caused a big stir among the American conductors employed upon the government railway lines, and they are openly threatening to strike if the new order is enforced. A grievance committee of conductors is here to talk with the higher officials of the National Railway with the view of having the order cancelled.

HARRIMAN-HILL AGREEMENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, March 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is no doubt in well-informed railroad circles that after three years' skirmishing the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railways are to get a long time agreement with the Northern Pacific where the Harriman road and the Northern Pacific tracks along the North Bank of the Columbia River, Vancouver and Kalamazoo, Washington and Centralia.

The settlement just effected in California between Harriman and Louis Hill will give Hill's North Bank road a place in Portland Union Station, where the Harriman road controls. Hill has been fighting for this entrance, while Harriman wanted to use the Northern Pacific tracks along the Columbia River, Vancouver and Kalamazoo or Centralia.

The Northern Pacific's route is strategic, being built to make the best possible use of its high bluff. Harriman's right of way is much lower down and will be subject to periodical overflows. Though Harriman's line has bought a right-of-way the better part of his line is now in line in their three-year struggle to get the use of the Northern Pacific tracks and therefore avoid overflows from the Columbia and Cowlitz rivers, when Harriman's Sound extension is finished next year.

"There is a flash came the following from Mr. Harriman."

"It is played out, it is played out; it is past and gone. If Nevada wants to get in the lead, her people should legislate in favor of combinations and coalitions of transportation lines."

"As civilization progresses that is sure to come, as it is so evidently for the good of the country at large. Every dollar that is invested is unnecessary property is dead, and to that end we must have a combination in other developing enterprises and the permanent employment of labor. I mean by that, the money is wasted, it brings no return, and passes out of the community in trade."

"Get straighted out in Nevada, and take the lead in what is bound to come."

Mr. Harriman appeared sprightly and gay, and spoke with a group of others to be photographed several times, and curiously watched Miss Goetz while she tripped lightly up and down the gravelled tracks and heard joyfully.

CHICAGO PROFESSOR PREDICTS END OF CHRISTIANITY.

Head of the Department of Philosophy at the University Delivers a Sermon on "Loss of Jesus in the Religion of the Modern Man."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Orthodoxy might as well prepare for another shock. It is on the way. It is coming from the University of Chicago; from the divinity school of the university at that.

Dr. George E. Butterick, professor of ecclesiastical history of religion who wrote a storm of criticism a year or two ago by his book, "The Finality of the Christian Religion," has now a new book now in press which is still more radical.

Although Dr. Foster is a Baptist, he preaches every Sunday in the Third Unitarian Church. His sermon today was a chapter from his forthcoming book. His subject was "The Place of Jesus in the Religion of Modern Man." He spoke of Christianity as a religion which in time to come may die as other religions have done. He said that at that time, he said, will be more Christian than now. Even Jesus himself if now on earth, he said, would pursue a far different course than he pursued 1800 years ago.

A billion years hence the spiritual condition of the race may be conceivable as far above ours as ours is above the status of the savages that roamed the primeval forests. And Jesus of Nazareth? It is inconceivable that a billion years hence, hence the human being will be alive who know as little about him, and our specific forms of religion as we know about the religion of the dwellers in Atlantis, or any other submerged land?

"It is inconceivable that the name of Christianity shall have passed away? And yet may not the world be more Christian then than now, have more faith, hope and love, be more sure of the fatherly God, of a brotherly man, of an eternal life, of a purposed world?"

FIERCE TRACK DUEL WON BY LOCOMOBILE.

Stearns Beaten Only by Seconds.
Thousands of Spectators at Ascot Park Thrilled by Desperate Driving on Soft Course.

MURRAY PAGE, in a Locomobile, won the 150-mile automobile race at Ascot Park, yesterday afternoon, in 2h, 47m, 1 3-5s, a new world's record.

The time of the Stearns, the only other car in the race, was 2h, 24 1-5s, 2m., 22 3-5s, slower than the Loco.

The Stearns stopped 1m, 34s, for oil and gasoline. The Loco made no stops.

The elapsed time of the Stearns was 2h, 47m., 50 1-5s. On elapsed time, the Loco beat the Stearns just 45 2-5s.

The fastest mile was made by the Stearns when Bert Latham drove the twenty-fifth lap in 1m., 24-5s. From the twenty-sixth to the thirty-fifth mile Latham, who was leading, did not vary more than .001 in time. Every one of the eleven miles was made between 1m., 45s, and 1m., 4 4-5s.

The Loco's fastest mile was lap 108, which was made in 1m., 5 2-5s.

Rushing over the soft course, made slippery by recent rains, and taking chances to win against a driver who has not been forced to stop for gasoline and oil. Just who stopped in the Stearns camp only those who prepared the car for the race know. It was somebody's fault that it was sent into the event with a comfortable lead, which would have given Latham a strong bid for the gold medal if he had not been forced to stop for gasoline and oil.

It will be seen that the Locomobile is a good car.

Its value is plain to see.

She wants a new "creation" which will turn her neighbors green.

Pa's dollars will be doubled when the bills for them are paid.

But pa will smile most kindly when he sees them all arrayed.

His wife is a good woman, though, but she shuns no expense.

He needs some new suspenders, but he'll wait another year.

Poor old dad! It's a shame. Let me tell you what you do girls. Bring him down to your Broadway and Sixth street shop and buy him a Ready and Right suit. You can get him an all fully good suit for $15, $16, up to $20, and I'll personally delineate the suspenders. Gosh! if people only realized how much honest value we give them; for their dollars, we'd have less stores in town instead of only two. And they're finding it out pretty fast, and it will soon be unanimous. You'll want, in addition to the suit a stylish Easter hat and a nice tie and perhaps a pair of gloves. Don't shop around for them. Come direct to us. Either store.

Murray Page, in the Locomobile, winning the 150-mile Automobile Race at Ascot Park Yesterday. He broke world's records by lowering the time for all distances greater than seventy miles. Page is swinging around the first turn in the final lap of the grueling contest at a terrific clip, which he maintained to the finish.

SOMEBODY BLUNDERED.
Had the Stearns been equipped with a reserve tank for oil and gasoline, the contest would have been the greatest ever held in America. The elapsed time of the cars shows the Stearns was .001 faster than the Locomobile in the first half of the race.

While the crew at the Stearns camp was working feverishly to fill the almost dry oil and gasoline tanks, Murray Page was gaining an advantage, which he never lost during the remaining seventy-five per cent of the race.

When the Stearns was ready to start once more Page had made up his half mile lead and had gained a lead of a mile and a half. He maintained this distance by lapping the Stearns in one hundred and forty-fifth mile.

With tanks refilled, the Stearns again started to fail to make the most of the lead, which it maintained that it had during the early part of the contest.

In the 126th mile the Loco, which was fast gaining on the Stearns, headed for the lead. The crowd and the spectators were given a thrill as the winning car was almost empty and Page shook his head ominously as the machine swung past the Loco camp.

SKILL SAVES DAY.

There was a scurrying for oil but Page kept handling the Locomobile with the skill of a racing champion.

He was not quite fast enough to pass the Stearns, which had stopped for gas and kept in the van until the next lap.

THE CITY IN BRIEF*CARMINE IN GUTTER.
HUNDREDS SEE WOMAN SHOT.*Man Fires Gun at Wife and Self on Street.*Both Wounded Seriously, But They May Live.*Principal in Act Becomes a Raving Maniac.*Within view of three hundred people, none of whom could have been quick enough to prevent his act, Edward G. Martin last evening shot his wife three times in the head. Then he sent a bullet through his own brain. While both are seriously wounded, neither is necessarily fatal.*At the rapid discharge of shots pedestrians and those congregated near the Pacific Electric depot, waiting for their cars, took to shelter. Those who recovered first from the stampede found Mrs. Martin lying in the gutter in front of the Central building, blood flowing from three wounds in the back of the head.*Martin, after the attempted murder and suicide, walked across the street to a drug store in the Pacific Electric building, where he was given a stimulant, but, before the medicine could act, he collapsed, falling against a counter and inflicting a cut on his head.*ALL BULLETS OUT.*Both the wounded were taken to the Receiving Hospital in the ambulance. Mrs. Martin was found to be suffering from two bullet wounds in the neck, one of which either cut the spinal cord or lodged against it, producing paralysis of the right hand and the other lodging in the neck muscle.*The third bullet struck the back of the head, flattened and coursed under the skin around the skull and lodged at the top of the spine, where it remained.*Martin, after the attempted murder and suicide, walked across the street to a drug store in the Pacific Electric building, where he was given a stimulant, but, before the medicine could act, he collapsed, falling against a counter and inflicting a cut on his head.*Bird and Egg Thief.*A bird cage containing a canary and a bird egg was stolen Saturday night from the home of J. At Cataro, the southerly port of Dalmatia, he was arrested as a Serbian spy because he had photographed mountains and fortresses. All his films were seized.*When his friends were read by three officers and they discovered his name "Roosevelt," their attitude changed, said Mr. Estes today. "I received the most courteous treatment and was well treated."*Mr. Estes said: "At Mombasa I began the journey about to be made by ex-President Roosevelt through the tropical regions of the countries of the coast. I saw from the railway trains tens of thousands of wild animals, antelopes and more than fifty varieties of antelope, and saw cattle in great numbers, all as fearless of the dashing train as the ordinary American herds of sheep and cattle."*They were within a few hundred yards of the train and most of them did not lift their heads. There are, of course, lions and other savage beasts which will fall by Col. Roosevelt's hand."*Mrs. Tupper's reading was finely in*keeping with the spirit of the work. To have given the letter in the formal, "reading" style would have been the veritable crushing of a rose, while any resource to mere eloquence methods would have drowned the author's sentiments in bombast. The reader carefully avoided both Scott and Chayefsky, and gave a quiet, human interpretation.*Mrs. Rand had carefully programmed the incidental music, and the solo voice note of Mr. Overton's violin was eminently adapted for such incidental melody.*Following the reading, which lasted for about an hour, and which was greatly applauded, an entire informal musical programme was presented.*Mrs. Rand and Miss Rand were heard in duet of old songs, with the voices of mother and daughter blended with delightful harmony.*Miss Fannie Dillon, composer and pianist of much more than local reputation, gave several piano numbers, and Mrs. Blanche and Ruthie, soprano and basso, sang some delightful songs.*Extrordinary values, $1.00.*GENEVA WATCH AND OPTICAL CO.*305 South Broadway*Pure Native Oil; very best flavor.*Olive Oil Try it. ### Anty Drudge on True Economy.

Mr. Nived—“I’m economizing by doing my own washing. By boiling the clothes a long time I can get the dirt out without much hard rubbing.”

Anty Drudge—“Economizing shucks! You’re burning up money in fuel and wearing out your clothes faster when you boil them. Use Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water without boiling. You’ll save fuel, save your clothes and you won’t have any hard rubbing. That’s true economy.”

How much are the clothes worth that go into your weekly wash?

Many dollars at least.

Isn’t it worth while to take good care of those clothes, to make them wear as long as possible?

Then, why soften them by boiling and hardrub them into holes on the washboard?

The Fels-Naptha way of washing will save your clothes.

Fels-Naptha will cleanse them thoroughly in cool or lukewarm water without boiling or hard rubbing.

The clothes will be sweeter, cleaner and whiter than you can get them any other way. And they’ll wear twice as long.

Remember,—whether winter or summer, no boiling, no hot water, no hard rubbing.

Time saved, fuel saved, work easier, less bother.

Follow simple directions on the red and green wrapper.

CAREFUL OF HIS SPEECH.

Beatty Spends First Day in Jail Meditating.

Says Nothing About Robbery of Monrovia Bank.

Seemingly Fears Police Are Laying Trap for Him.

George Allen Beatty, accused of having stolen $25,750 from the First National Bank of Monrovia, spent the first day of his incarceration in the detention ward of the County Jail yesterday, in meditation. To officers he had nothing to say.

Beatty is looking after his own interests. Now that he realizes he made a mistake, he does not intend to do anything that will make matters worse. He studies over the most ordinary sentences before speaking, evidently fearing that an attempt will be made to lead him into some careless utterance regarding the details of the robbery.

About $400 of the missing money has been recovered in cash. The jewelry found in a trunk in Beatty's room at the Dayton police make it appears likely that the amount of March 14 is believed to have been bought with bank funds. The lock expert was with Farnham Wilson, a Los Angeles citizen at the time of his arrest. Sir was also taken to police headquarters and kept there for a few days but the officers soon became convinced that such had little about the Monrovia case and released him.

Detectives are at a loss to understand Beatty's mistakes after reaching Dayton. He had been a locksmith for ten years and was considered one of the best in the business. It was his boast that there was not a lock made that he could not open without a key or an exact model. Until recently he had never been in trouble and was considered thoroughly trustworthy.

It was several days after the commission of the crime before it was discovered and several more before suspicion pointed to the men who had been repairing the locks of the vault. By that time Beatty had left Los Angeles.

The locks expert knew that the Pinkertons were caring for the latest news of the bank robbery at Dayton. O. He met his old employer and immediately began to spend money with a lavish hand. He selected a small frame building and established the Oak Cafe bar, which were elegantly fitted up.

He bought an automobile and with a woman companion rode about the city in style. They were in the finest hotel and lived on the best in the land. He had completed arrangements for the opening of aillard and poolroom at the time of his arrest.

Beatty, from the work as locksmith, suddenly branched out into a self-satisfied and somewhat extensive proprietor. When he was arrested Sheriff Hammel was communicated with and went to Ohio for the prisoner.

Charges will probably be filed against Beatty within a day or two. He will be given preliminary examination at Monrovia.

Earl Rogers, the well-known criminal lawyer, will be retained by Beatty as counsel. W. H. Dohm, who is associated with Mr. Rogers in the law, conferred with the prisoner at the County Jail yesterday. There is no immediate further conference will be held today. Messrs. Rogers and Dohm came into the case through the solicitation of the attorneys who represented the prisoners at Dayton, O.

Mr. Rogers is now engaged in the Galloway trial at San Francisco, as one of the attorneys for the defense.

"I think he would get me sooner if he did not have quite so much money. You see, he has been good to me with good things and they all come so easily to him. All he has to do is to order what he wants and pay for it, and he has so much that he really does not need me to make him happy. Now if a poor man like myself would tell him all he had to make him happy, I would marry him quick, if I loved him.

"But I don't know how I can stand it any longer, with mother on his side and the other women in the neighborhood. It is pretty hard on me, because he is a nice man. Now please don't say that he proposed to me and I threw him down. Please say nice things about him."

Mama has been trying to get me to change my mind, but she doesn't seem to me that he is really loved him. I would be hesitate, and if I didn't love him, I would be making a great mistake to get married.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN.

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

Talk about fads! The automobile manufacturers are ramming them into our brains and historic and meteorological libraries for names for their machines. Every up-to-date automobile has its definite name—the same as every Pullman car. They run from the sublime to the ridiculous as, for instance, "The Mim" which means— "The Only Way," but signifies that this particular car can run a mile a minute, if you please.

Within the Five-Dollar Limit.

This bids fair to be a season when the woman of moderate means will have her innings. Such lovely, inexpensive fabrics as are shown in the way of cottons and muslins were never before seen. For instance, a yard one can purchase the prettiest weaves imaginable which make up charmingly. Today there is a sale on one of these novelties which goes under the name "crepe satin"—a cotton stuff which comes in all colors and in the popular crepe effect.

Another store offers some silk finished foulards and very handsome, thirty-six inches wide so that it may readily be seen how very inexpensive a summer frock may be had, especially if one is to be her own dressmaker.

One of these foulards have the popular border stripe and this simplifies the making very much and does away entirely with the question of added expense of trimming. There is a sale now in the stores some very pretty cotton embroidered braids which may be bought by the bolt and which make effective and fashionable trimming for the gingham, wavy poplins and gauze goods intended to be selected as a motif for a child.

Saint Christopher is regarded as the ideal by Parisian motorists and it was a woman who introduced it, too, and less a personage than the Dowager Queen of Italy, the type par excellence of automobilist royalty. She sets the pace for all Europe. Today she is at Aix-les-Bains, tomorrow at Nice and the day after at Biarritz.

A Convertible Cab.

The latest thing in baby cabs is the English, high-backed coach which can be transformed in one movement from a double to a single carriage. The little baby may ride comfortably in the front seat, while the mother sits behind, and the nurse may sit on the front seat facing the nurse. Touch a spring (of course before the cab is occupied) and presto, the front seat is gone and you behold a single carriage. For young families this English patent is simply great.

Timely Tips.

All over nets, embroidered in crystal bugles and beads, in pearls, jet or beads, are still in first favor for evening waists.

The rich color season is at hand. Whether else next season's styles yet unknown, may have in store, this much is a surety.

The long stale effect produced by the arrangement of the scarf on either side of the neck has not in any way increased in popularity.

Lace and net overbusts will be much worn over straight, untrimmed gowns and the handsomeness of the robes being emphasized by jeweled belts.

In spite of the rage for tones of lavender and purple which has existed all winter, there is more of it than ever on the spring hats.

The new sailor hat, a low, broad crown with a wide brim, a little wider at one side than the other, the sides curving up very slightly.

Cravatine caps are being shown for young girls. They are made very plain with four buttons down the front a hood with a contrasting color.

The huge bows of the past season proved so universally becoming that the millions are being used to fashion them for the season to come.

For women who cannot afford foot wear to match their different gowns, slippers of patent leather with rhinestone buckles, are a good investment.

Embroidered lingerie worn threaded and cut out through the puffs, but are drawn smoothly around the head, with the ends tucked out of sight.

An Alarming Suggestion.

Two ladies who had known each other in years gone by, met on the street. One of them, who had been married for some years, was pushing a baby carriage in which were two triplets. The other lady, who had been in the bonds of matrimony a couple of weeks, "What beautiful children!" exclaimed the newly married one, exuding warmth and friendliness. "Yes," replied the proud mother, "and it was just the other day that I was at the hospital for a walk with the babies." "I am so glad to see you again," said the other, "but I am afraid there is a temptation to step into an auto and smoothly roll down the avenue instead of walking briskly as your health and fitness demand."

It is a wise woman who makes it a point to stand or walk slowly about the room for fifteen or twenty minutes after dinner instead of obeying the old and complete rule of our mothers, "After dinner rest a while." As a woman grows older she will do well to remember herself an excess of sweets, heavy desserts and pastries.

Get Next to Nature.

This sunshine and shadow April weather that we have been enjoying for the past week has so mellowed the earth and enticed the buds and blossoms that we feel the warmth of spring already. "Good green weather" is what the farmer back East call it, when the warm sun succeeds a cold spell to melt the snow. There is a growing danger that the automobile will be responsible for a generation of stout women with bad figures, good health, however. It is a temptation to step into an auto and smoothly roll down the avenue instead of walking briskly as your health and fitness demand.

As they walk along the country roads they point out this and that flower or blossom, or plant, and the interesting and unusual and the habits and peculiarities of each. As they walked or drove along the country roads she pointed out this and that flower or blossom, or plant, and the interesting and unusual and the habits and peculiarities of each. As they grew up with a seemingly intuitive knowledge of plant life. The boy and his daughter, now a bright schoolboy came to her much amused by a picture of springtime as it appears in a story in the current number of Success, wherein the writer describes a day in May. She literally jumbled into this picture all the flowers that bloom from March to July, and the days when each flower begins to bloom.

"Just listen to this," exclaimed the girl critic, "she makes of daffodils and tulips and violets and primroses a ladylike lady of knowledge commanding the seasons of bloom peculiar to each."

"Indeed," replied the eccllesiastic without the smallest surprise or displeasure. Then seeming deeply touched he added: "Monsieur, I have always taken the greatest interest in orphans. When I was a boy I used to go to the orphanage and help the children. I have always been out all day and have not had time to glance at the papers."

MAN COMING INTO HIS OWN

By Jessie B. Jones.

The man's clothes were far more revealing than his woman's was not far back, according to him. It was his fashions rather than his looks that were most important. It was when he liked frills for himself, the last time he said to her when she was alone: "My dearest dear, beauty is adored the most." It was when that she was most sweetly won over, and for a long time she lay out to her daughters whenever she was primping in them.

Nature set before him many examples of the turkey gobbler with the whiskers on his red nose and his strut. Man kept as long as he kept his fine fancy feather ways.

Women admired him greatly,

but a wife—poor, unwarried two and rich or poor—no glad were there to make up or share in one, that they were not burdened by his support, nor other for his favor. Oh, it was but work? No, indeed—he and to undermine his own supremacy was to idealize and defer to womankind,

the name of chivalry, and to graze the responsibility of his safety in limiting his family duties and bestowing upon him his companionship when nothing was called him away. It was his sphere not by any means civilization nor that lost him his relative position. He

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

PASADENA.
SAY FRANCHISE
IS VIOLATED.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY SERVICE IS CRITICIZED.

Citizens May Request Revocation of Privileges on California Street Line Unless Company Lives Up to Provisions of Its Charter—Mayor Answers Critic.

Office of The Times, No. 24 S. Raymond Ave. PASADENA, March 23.—The Pacific Electric Railway Company is to be threatened with the loss of its franchise on the California-street line unless it agrees to certain conditions which will go before the City Council with a request that the franchise be revoked unless the railway company lives up to the provisions of its charter.

It is asserted, by representatives of the Orange Grove Improvement Association, that the company is daily threatening to violate its franchise.

Black health officer of this city, followed with a recounting of what had been done in Pasadena by way of solving some of these problems. Pasadena may be able to do more.

The country successful with the tuberculosis test of milk cows. Dr. F. C. E. Mattison made a strong plea for the safety of the city, but the individual health and especially the moral character. He urged all women's clubs as well as individual mothers to work everywhere toward this desirable end.

TEMPERANCE RALLY.

An audience which filled the auditorium of the Friends' Church and overflowed into the Sunday-school room showed the general interest in the holding of a rally in the temperance cause, contained in the schools of the city, in which about 400 students of the seventh and eighth grades took part. Miss Baker, of the Great Western Temperance Society, spoke in her district, but also in the city. Mr. Sanborn of the Lincoln-avenue was given second prize in the city, and it was now known that he would travel more than a mile to get to the rally.

There are two railroad crossings on the road and under the regulations it is compulsory that the conductor of the train stop to flag the crossing. This regulation was instituted in order to avoid the possibility of hasty signaling, such as occurred at the Oriental Park.

At the start, it took the conductor more than a minute to extricate himself from the saddle pack inside.

It was necessary for him to acquire the full length of the car to secure the irate disapproval of the passengers.

The dinkey reached Colorado street and under the regulations it is according to schedule to take but ten minutes. This condition continued throughout the day, as on Sunday afternoon hundreds of people go to Orange Grove to visit the famous botanical gardens of Adolphus Busch. The average daily receipts of the line are $5. These are some of the facts given to the press, and were voted by him that are to be laid before the City Council in a demand for fair service.

MAYOR EARLEY ANSWERS.

"My open letter in regard to the water bond election which Torrey Everett has attacked will stand as written," said Mayor Earley. "The reporter is right. 'It is correct. I have nothing to take back.' I made my statements knowingly, and I feel that Mr. Everett virtually accuses me of trying to蒙骗 the people. It is ridiculous."

The returns speak for themselves and I have never will misrepresent anything to the press."

The statement by Mayor Earley is in answer to an open letter which appeared in evening papers here Saturday.

"Mr. Earley will speak this evening at No. 1527 North Fair Oaks avenue, answering challenges on finances of the city and taxes. Councilmen candidates of his ticket and Judge Maguire will also speak.

APETITES.

Rev. Leslie Learned created comment last night at All Saints Church by speaking freely on the subject of "Appetites." Mr. Learned is advocating the Emmanuel movement, his denomination, and the importance of the abilities of life. In part he said:

"Appetites may be original or inherited. They may be good or bad. They are sometimes useful to the soul. They affect the body, the mind, and the soul. An appetite is an effect, though it causes untold injury or inestimable blessing. You can eat too much for the sake of a bad habit, but a cause for it is to be found."

A fundamental principal of the Emmanuel idea is that man must not be a slave under appetites. They are not the lords of creation; they need not victimize their possessors.

Human appetites are of two kinds, animal and spiritual. Both appetites tend to come together. The appetite for beauty is a spiritual appetite, but it depends on its full strength and development on the animal appetites of the flesh.

The subject of the debate was: "Resolved: That the hardships and triumphs of Nebraska are more preferable to the hardships and triumphs of California." This resulted in a unanimous decision in favor of the California proposition.

"In the body, man without doubt ascended from the animal world. In his physical composition and tendencies he is intimately related to the lower forms of life. All the animals, from the prehistoric ages down to the present day, never created self-consciousness. This is an original endowment of the human race.

In the animal, man, who may rule his own body, has a hand to the art of his own body, but a cause for it is to be found."

Human appetites are of two kinds, animal and spiritual. Both appetites tend to come together. The appetite for beauty is a spiritual appetite, but it depends on its full strength and development on the animal appetites of the flesh.

The subject of the debate was:

"Resolved: That the hardships and triumphs of Nebraska are more preferable to the hardships and triumphs of California." This resulted in a unanimous decision in favor of the California proposition.

"In the body, man without doubt ascended from the animal world. In his physical composition and tendencies he is intimately related to the lower forms of life. All the animals, from the prehistoric ages down to the present day, never created self-consciousness. This is an original endowment of the human race.

A fundamental principle of the Emmanuel idea is that man must not be a slave under appetites. They are not the lords of creation; they need not victimize their possessors.

In January, 1892, near the Anglo-Boer War, Lieut. Viljoen, while reconnoitering, was fired upon by British troops in ambush near the River. Both sides were injured, and Viljoen, severely wounded, was recognised and immediately in triumph before Lord Roberts, the English commander-in-chief.

"I am most happy to meet you, general," said he of Khartoum significantly. Lord Roberts' candor was more blunt.

"General, you are the best haul of the war," said "Bob," courteously extending his hand to the two young British commanders present. St. Helena was the place for Gen. Viljoen, and thither he was dispatched to keep company with Gen. Cronje, who had met his fate some months earlier.

To be the first Afrikaner to bear the full rule of the fatherland he fought so long and heroically to preserve as a nation. Viljoen, on the other hand, in a fit of patriotic delusion declared his rank and position at the hands of a magnanimous conqueror. Unconquerable to the last, he set foot again on African soil only to bid farewell to his former countrymen and leave it with a smile.

These Afrikaners are great story tellers, though with a bit too modest in recounting their own personal exploits. Capt. N. J. SHRIMP FOR MURDER.

Nabor Pacheco, Jr., son of ex-Sheriff Nabor Pacheco, is confined in County Prison, waiting trial for the murder of Alice Cain, better known locally as Rena Elga. The woman was shot from behind. She was standing at the bottom of a stairway, in the basement of the Standard Hotel, where she had brought back a team of mules, and while the entire force of the British shells concentrated upon him, he was able to escape with his life. It is believed that he was covered with decoctions. At a later period he joined the Maxim-Vickers gun, which was turned upon the assaulting "Tommies" with such telling effect that night found the Boers again in undivided possession of the strategic town.

In the four years that they have been here the country the Boers have come to be recognized as among the most successful farmers of irrigated land in the arid Southwest. They have cleared over 1,000 acres of desert land and have been the direct assistants in causing the cultivated lands of the Mesilla Valley to double in value. They are quick to learn the American methods of irrigation and will bring in the most profitable crops in the section, as well as the first modern land-graders and gang plows. They are among the biggest shippers of alfalfa in the country, and on truck gardens in the El Paso market, where they are said to have realized as high as $400 per acre.

HOSPITABLE TO ALL.

The Boers are home lovers, and the most hospitable people in the world.

No stranger is ever turned from their doors. Mesilla Valley people frequently declare that their "burgher" neighbors have fed every tramp living, from the notorious "A-No. 1" down to the ordinary tramp vagrant.

The "tante" or one of the younger people is always prepared to ply the most caustic visitor with little Dutch cakes, coffee and beer, and a good cigar or two.

The Boer hostess invariably insists upon the old-country formalities. Great gobs of coffee and heating water are given, and the Boer wife has made the acquaintance of John Haye Hammond. Viljoen's record throughout the rest, stop working to refresh themselves. Many of the Boers are musical, and continue their musical skill to the social life of the community. The singing of their stirring old Boer anthems is always demanded of them in occupied cities, and their loud social gathering. They are not in the least disposed to claimlessness. The whole countryside, for twenty miles around, is a veritable Boer camp, ranch-house of Chris Viljoen to dance and make merry to the music of a local orchestra. On these occasions the Americans outnumber the Boers many times over.

The Boer is an indefatigable hunter, and a hard rider. Mounted on khaki saddle horses, equipped with leather saddle bags over his broad shoulders, one of these ex-soldiers is a picturesque figure. Riding pel-met in groups through the mesas, the Boers follow every inch the formidable troopers the world knows them really to be.

The average Boer is something of a

One night in January, 1902, near the close of the Anglo-Boer War, Lt.-Gen. H. J. Viljoen, while reconnoitering with two sides was fired upon by British troops lying in ambush near the Spekboom River. Both sides were instantly killed, and Viljoen, severely wounded, was recognized and immediately haled in triumph before Lord Kitchener, the English commander-in-chief.

"I am most happy to meet you, general," said he of Khartoum significantly. Lord Roberts's candor was more blunt.

"General, you are the best haul of the war," said "Bob" courteously extending his hand. The two veteran British commanders agreed that St. Paul was the place for Gen. Viljoen, and thenceforth distinguished him as a company with Gen. Cronje, who had met his fate some months earlier.

One of the terms of Gen. Botha's surrender was that Viljoen and his men should be released from the "Red" Louis Botha took the fate of his country and of himself philosophically. Today he is Prime Minister, under British protection, and is doing his best, though long and heroically to preserve as a nation. Viljoen, on the other hand, in a fiery burst of patriotism declined honors and position at the hands of a succession of Boer leaders, and unable to the last, set foot again on African soil only to bid farewell to his former comrades-at-arms, and embark on a penniless life.

In January of the present year Benjamin Johannis Viljoen, formerly second in command of the armed forces of the Transvaal republic, but lately a prisoner of the Americans, was released by the Third Judicial Court in New Mexico at Las Cruces, and received the papers which admitted him to full citizenship of the United States. The general returned with an amount when Federal Judge Frank W. Parker warmly congratulated him upon the fact that he was the first Boer to become a citizen of America. When streaming down his bronzed cheeks Mr. Viljoen made those about him a stirring little speech in which he declared that for seven years he had been a man without a master, and that this was the proudest moment of his life. He declared that every "burgher" in the Rio Grande settlement had saved his freedom, and that every American had done the same.

Twenty-eight-Mile Extension of Phoenix and Eastern Through Gila Canyon to Be Rushed—Son of Ex-Sheriff Held for Murder of Light of Love.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES

TUCSON (Ariz.) March 27.—The late trip of Senator Harriman along the Southern Pacific lines in the Southwest already is showing results. Col. Alexander, now in charge of the Southern Pacific, will push work as quickly as practicable, the twenty-eight-mile extension of the Phoenix and Eastern Railroad through the Gila Canyon from Winkelman to San Carlos.

The work will be very heavy and the initial cost not less than $2,000,000. The line will be completed in time for the superintendent of the Territorial prison, and is now curator at the University of Arizona. The bride is the daughter of Charles A. Shibley, a pioneer of the Southwest, who died last year.

Richard Harrison, aged 82, and for thirty years a resident of Arizona, died last Saturday in Tucson. Before coming to Arizona he lived in California, practicing law during the time of the earliest American occupation.

The position of vice-president of the Consolidated National Bank of Tucson was immortalized in the almost inconceivable feat of Gen. Viljoen in winning the battle of Vaalkrant. During this engagement Viljoen and his descendants, now in charge of the branch, have served the lost cause of the "vlekkie" with her full toll of devotion in fugitive field hospitals or the British Prisoner-of-War camps.

The existence of such a colony is little known out of New Mexico. The Boers, of course, form an infinitesimal factor in immigration, even in that state.

The Boers, too, sticks intelligently among their neighbors and assiduously to business. In this he is truly Dutch. The Boer himself always gets his moneyability from the French strain in his racial make-up.

In the four years that they have been in this country the Boers have come to be regarded as the most successful farmers of irrigated land in the arid Southwest. They have reclaimed thousands of acres of desert and have held the driest lands north of El Paso, Tex., comprises only about twenty families. A smaller settlement is at Cleopatra. The Boers do not advertise themselves abroad, and the cities know them not. They have almost literally beaten their swords into plowshares, and by nature and inheritance an agricultural people.

The Boer, too, sticks intelligently among the Boers, and assiduously to business. In this he is truly Dutch. The Boer himself always gets his moneyability from the French strain in his racial make-up.

OLD FOLKS GO HOME.

Any account of the Boer colony which fails to mention the beloved father and mother of the Viljoens would be incomplete. W. J. Viljoen, senior, is a veteran of two wars with England, and of numerous wars with the natives. He joined the settlement three years ago with five other families. He is understood to be a Boer of the old school, and has held the direction of the lands he occupies on both sides of the Rio Grande about thirty miles north of El Paso, Tex., comprises only about twenty families. A smaller settlement is at Cleopatra. The Boers do not advertise themselves abroad, and the cities know them not. They have almost literally beaten their swords into plowshares, and by nature and inheritance an agricultural people.

THE BREWERY WORK HALTS.

Work is still suspended upon the $100,000 brewery which was started a couple of months ago in Tucson by a Lancaster (Pa.) corporation. The foundations are laid and it is told that the contractors are waiting for steel.

It is understood, however, that builders have become dubious concerning the value of their investment, because of the passage of the Pace bill in the last Legislature, and some communities may establish prohibition by a majority vote.
